

LABOUR MARKET REPORT 3Q 2025

Manpower Research & Statistics Department

Total employment growth was stronger than in the second quarter

+10,400
2Q 2025  +25,100
3Q 2025

Residents

Employment continued to expand, especially in:

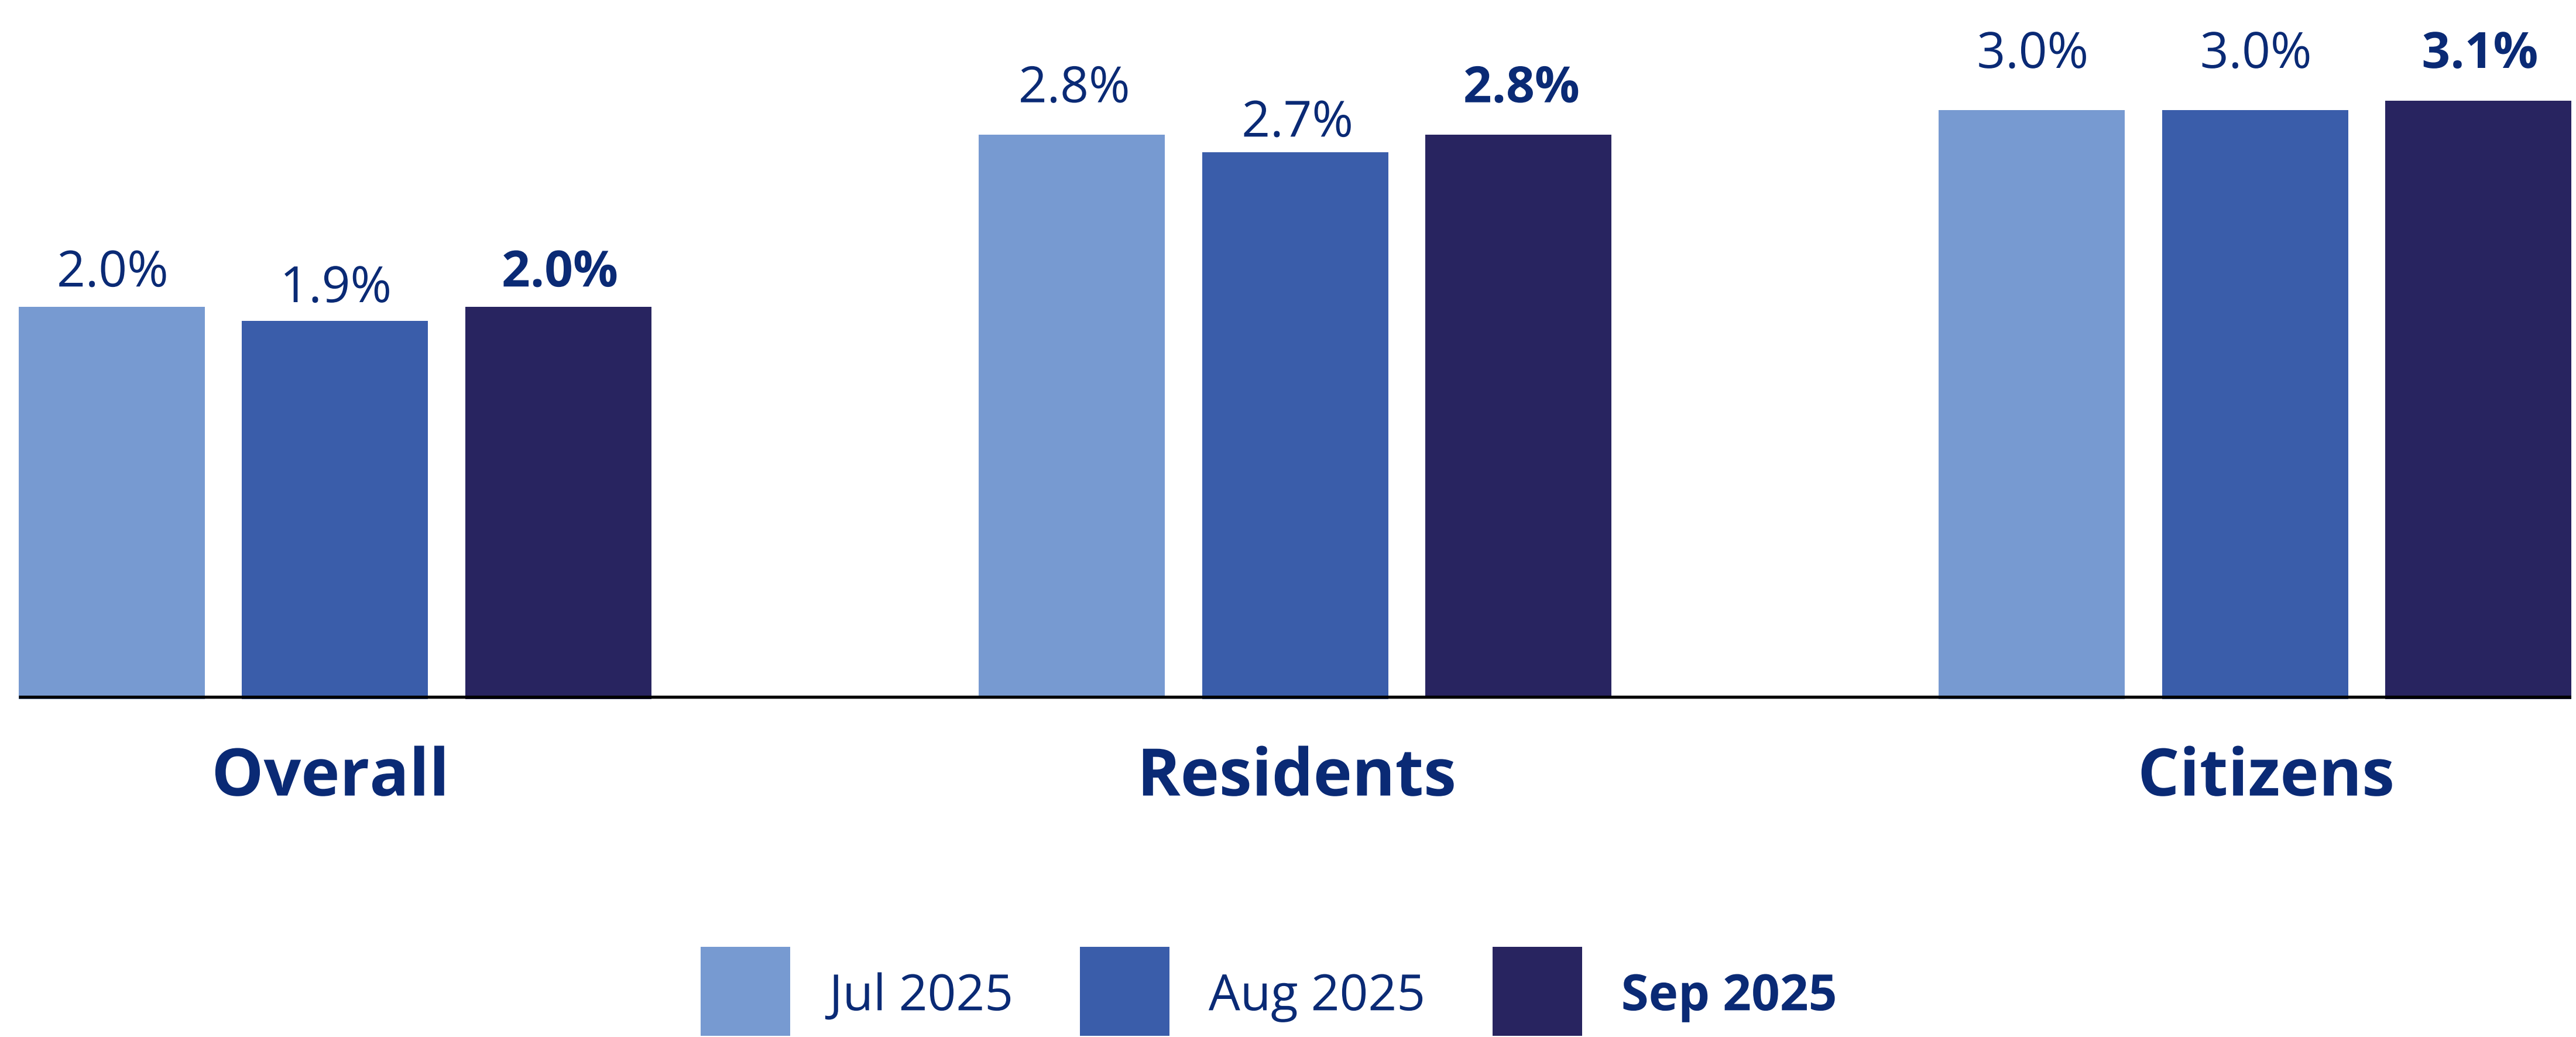

-  Financial & Insurance Services
-  Health & Social Services

Non-Residents

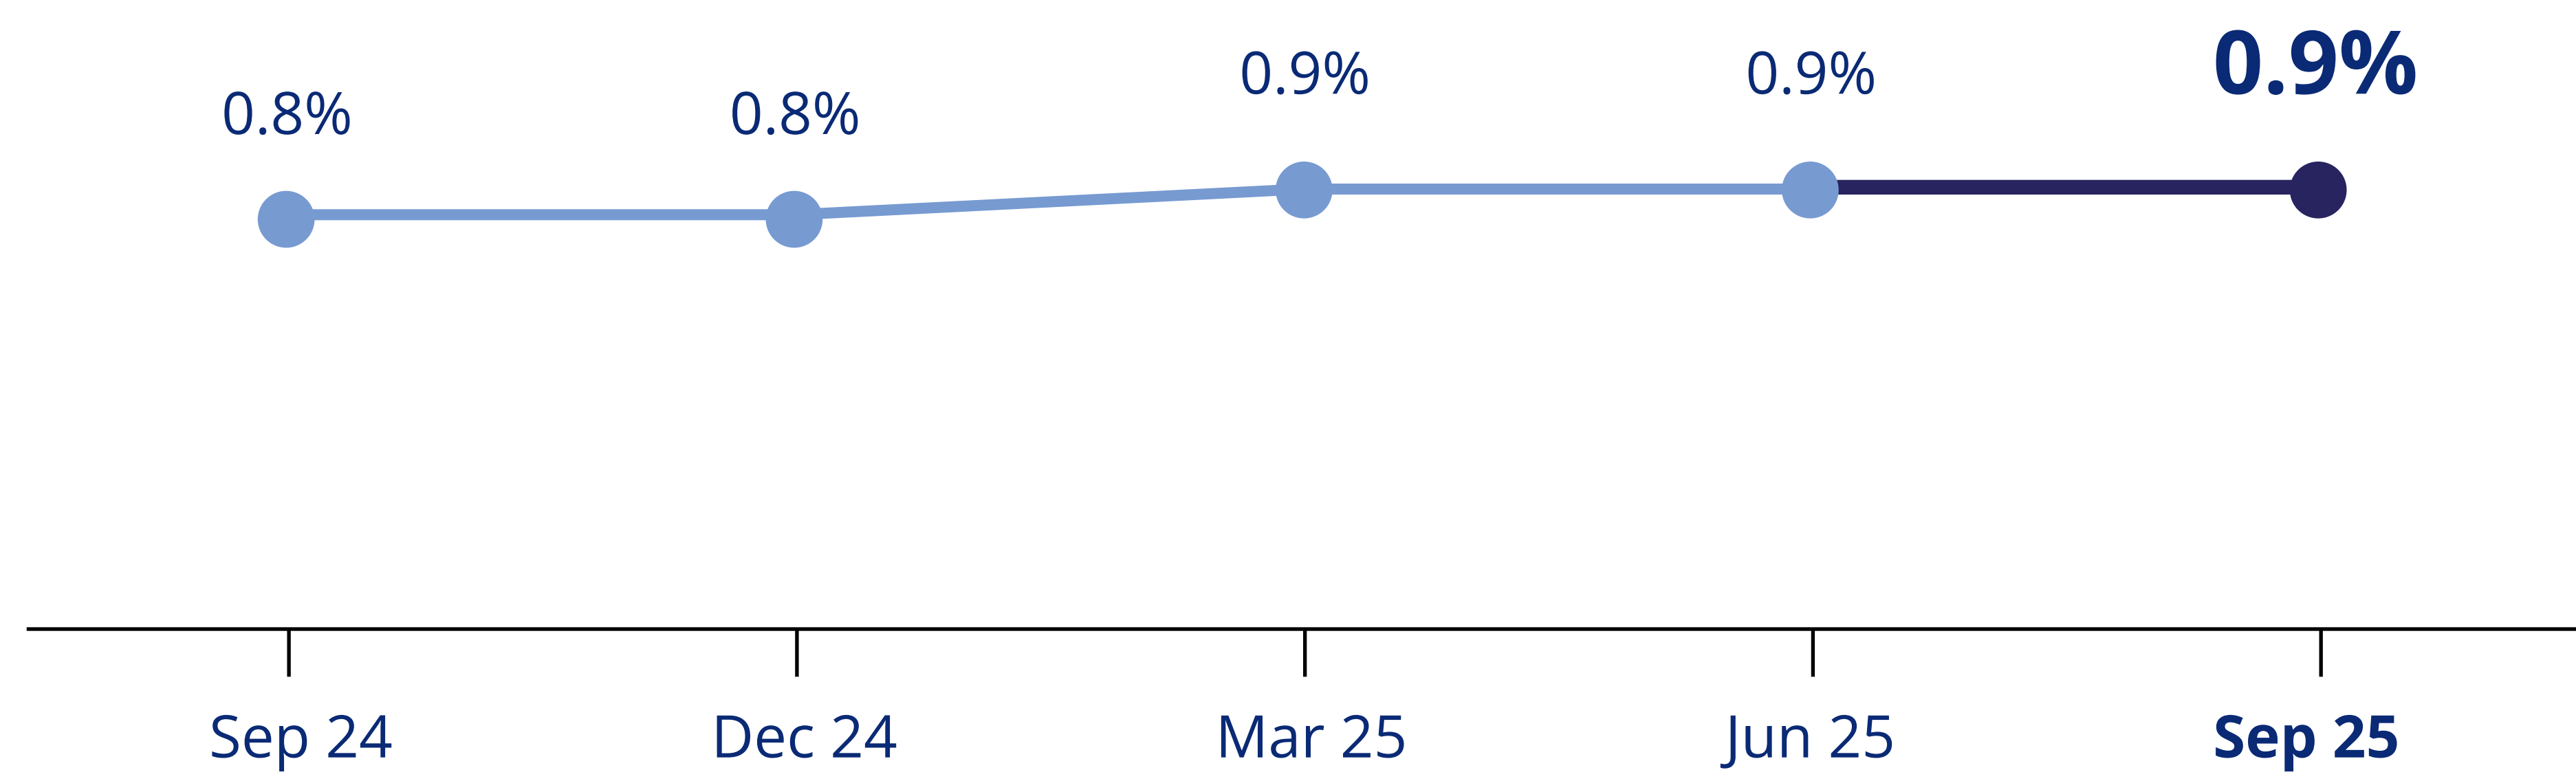

Employment grew mainly in:

-  Construction
-  Manufacturing

Unemployment rates stayed low

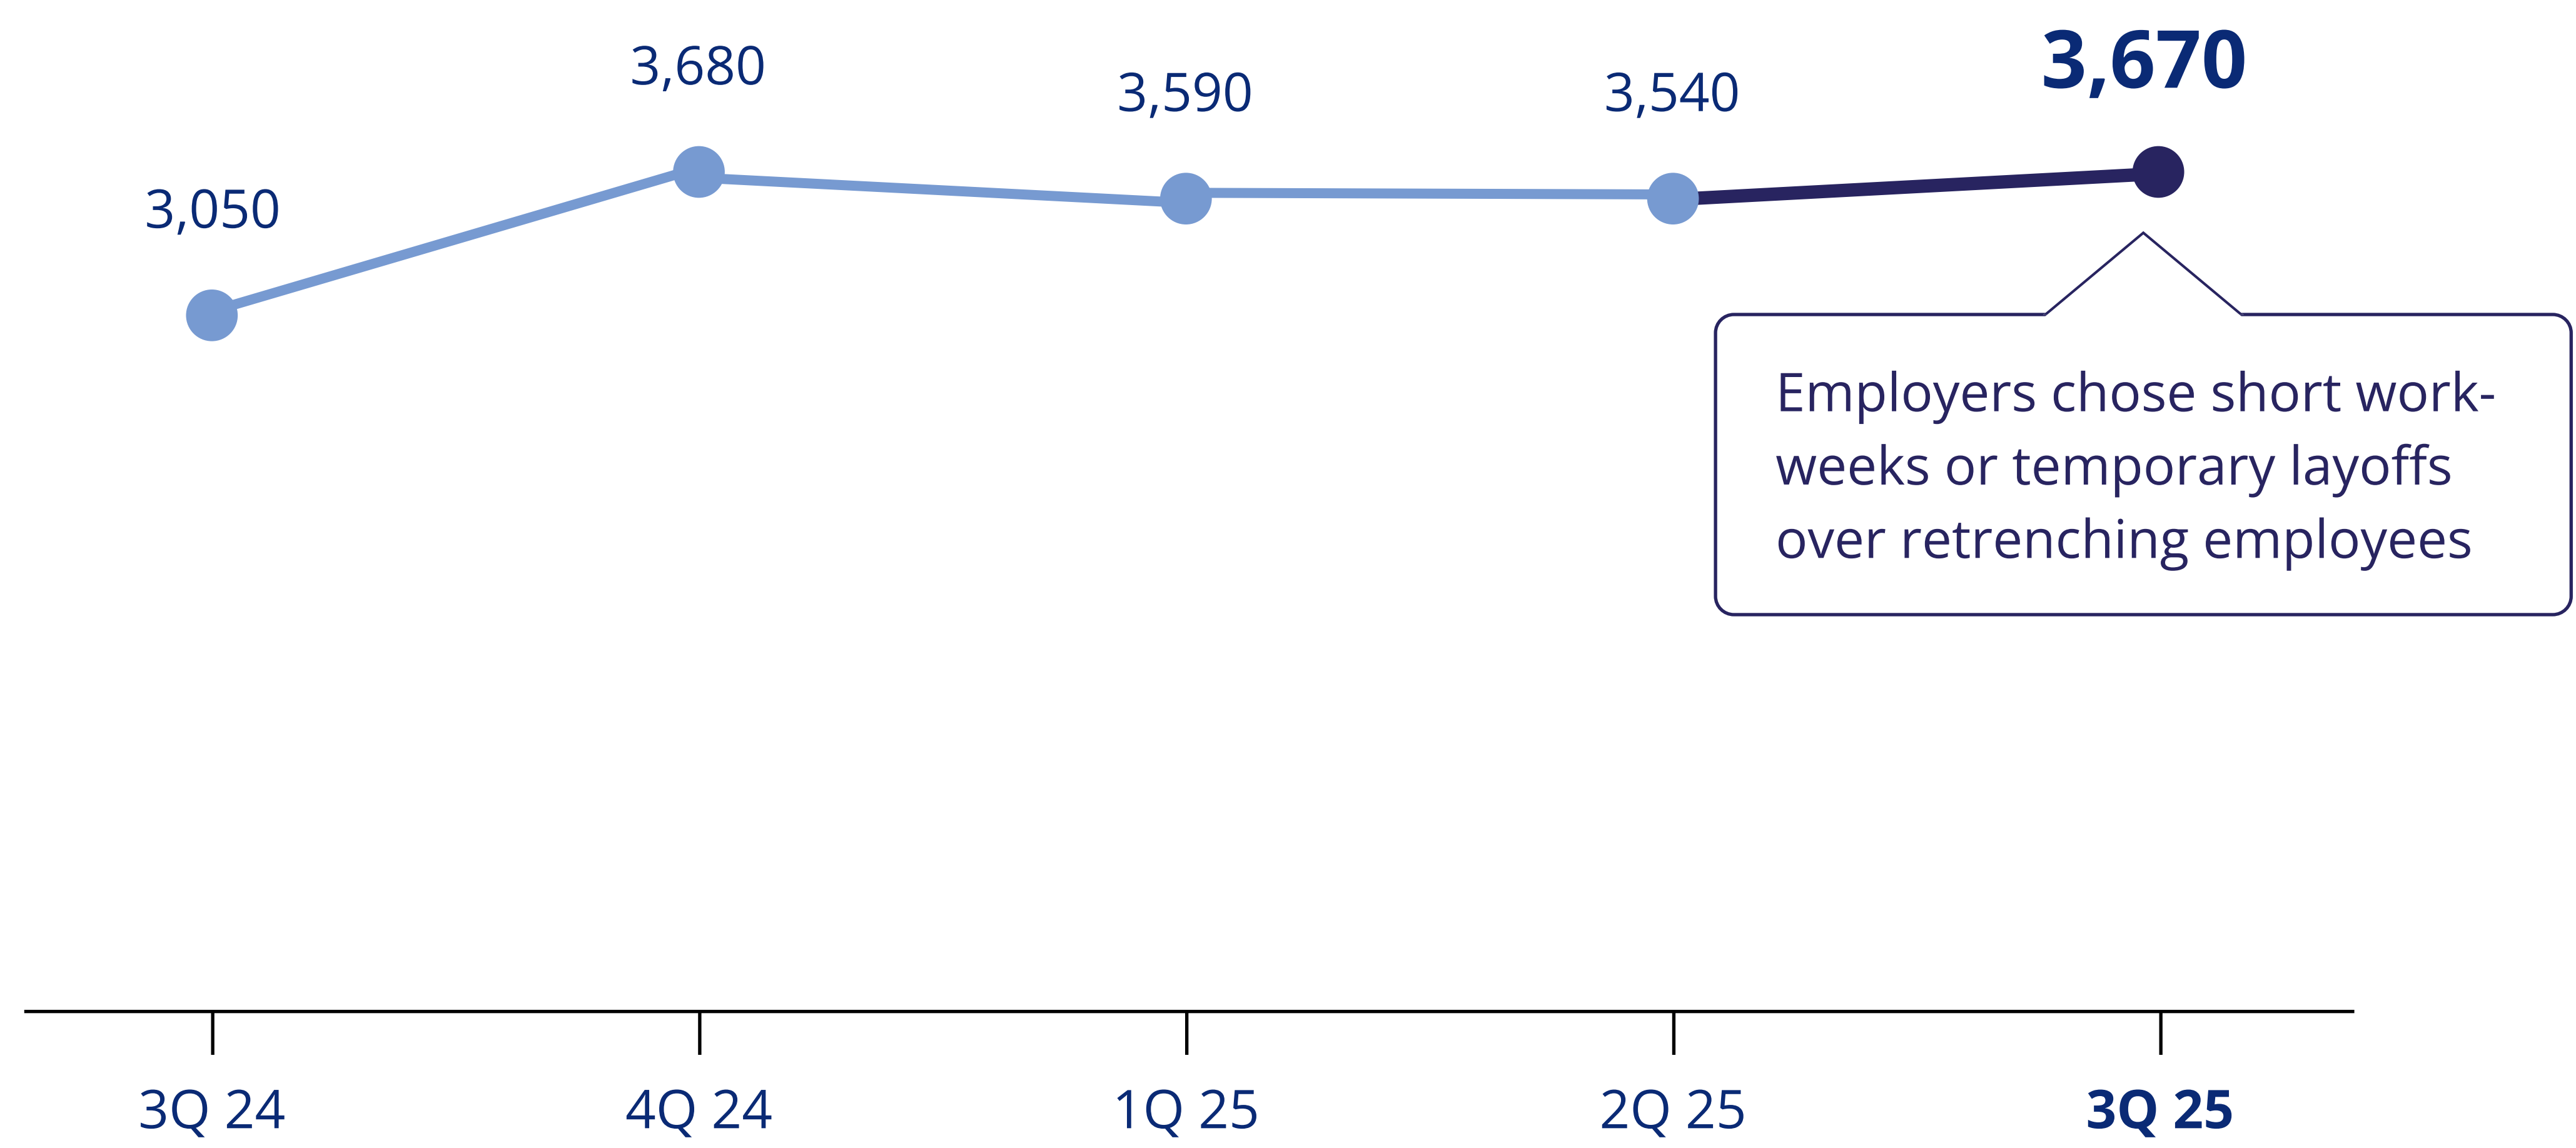

Resident long-term unemployment rates remained stable

The ratio of job vacancies to unemployed persons increased due to fewer unemployed persons

Retrenchments remained low

To know more about these indicators, please visit stats.mom.gov.sg

Source: Labour Market Report 3Q 2025

Notes:

(1) Employment and retrenchment data are rounded to the nearest hundred and ten respectively

(2) Employment data exclude MDW (Migrant Domestic Workers)

(3) Data for unemployment rates, long-term unemployment rates, and ratio of job vacancies to unemployed persons are seasonally adjusted